

Red Crow Community College is a First Nations college with locations in Standoff and Lethbridge. Our mission is to meet the cultural, educational, and training needs for Kainaiwa and beyond. The college provides leadership through its programs and service to nurture self-realization based on Kainaissinni.

We are currently seeking qualified teachers, recruiters, and counsellors to support our adult education programs. Full time continuing and sessional positions are available.

Adult upgrading teachers require a valid Alberta teaching certificate and experience in the areas of Math, Science, or Language Arts. Please submit a copy of your teaching certificate with your resume.

Arts & Science instructors require a Master's degree in a discipline appropriate area to instruct Psychology, Sociology, or Political Science courses. Please submit a copy of your University transcripts with your resume.

Our combined position of Recruiter/Counsellor requires an enthusiastic and compassionate individual who is able to engage potential First Nations students in the Lethbridge, Fort Macleod, Cardston, and Standoff regions and has at least 3 years' experience working in a recruitment or counselling role at an academic institution.

All applicants are required to submit the documents related to their position of interest, a resume, a criminal record check, and 3 professional references.
